O. C., Platt National Park Highlight Oklahoma Tour

HISTORY IS SO CLOSE that you can touch it in the Sooner State. The Magic Circle starts from Oklahoma City, built overnight when the "run" of 1889 opened land to settlement. Today producing wells bring black gold from under the State Capitol. Highlights include Platt National Park and its mineral springs; Tahomingo, capital of the old Chickasaw Nation; Lake Texoma, Oklahoma's water sports mecca; Chickasha of Chisholm Train fame; Andarko, noted for its American Indian Exposition; Norman, home of the University of Oklahoma and its champion football teams.

Editor's Note: This is the 33rd in a series of suggested highway tour maps which the Hope Star is publishing weekly. This is excellent material to cut out and paste up in a scrapbook for future reference when planning your vacation trip.

By EDWARD COLLIER
Oil, Indians and "The Surrender with the Fringe on the Top" — all are synonymous with Oklahoma, where history is so close that you can touch it. There isn't a city or town more than 80 years old. "Old-timers" still are on hand to tell you authentic tales of "The Run" between 1889 and 1895 and how they homesteaded their land. The Sooner State is one of the few places where man-sized hats, high-heeled boots and bucking broncos could fit in nonchalantly with skyscrapers, forests of oil derricks and a concentration of water play grounds. Even the Indians are fairly new to this area, since most of them moved to reservations in Oklahoma from other parts of the country during the 19th Century.

Prosperous Oklahoma City is the starting point for this week's Magic Circle. Literally a city built in a day it came into being during "The Run" on April 22, 1889 when some of the Indian lands were thrown open to white settlement. By nightfall there were 10,000 inhabitants; in 1910 it became the Capital.

Black Gold Landscape
The appropriate place to begin your tour of the city is at the massive, dignified white limestone State Capitol. Here it doesn't seem odd that the derricks of working oil wells are a part of the landscape. The black gold flows, via directional drilling methods, from under the building itself.

One part of the scene kept disturbing me, even while inspecting the interior of the Capitol, cool on a hot summer day due to the awesome amount of white marble utilized. Then the incongruity struck me — this was the only capital in the U. S. without a shining dome, except the skyscraper spire at Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Tourists, scrip writers and students filled the adjoining Historical Society Building a top attraction. In addition to its priceless Indian archives there is a museum with well-documented artifacts and relics. One that creates the most comment is the peace pipe used when the Delawares made their treaty with William Penn in 1683.

We found that the easiest way to get acquainted with the rest of the Sooner metropolis was to pick up Grand Boulevard, which completely circles the city and traverses such beauty spots as Will Rogers Park with its photo-genic rose gardens, Lincoln Park and zoo, Prosper Park and Woodson Park. Short side trips can be taken to Lake Hefner, and through the Nichols Hills residential area with its palatial homes.

Oil and Indians
The Magic Circle out of Oklahoma City leads (U. S. 27) to Shawnee, straggled in a horse-hoe bend of the North Canadian River. An oil, railroad and farming center, its Indian heritage is still evident. The Shawnee, Pottawatomie, Kickapoo, Sac and Fox tribes still live on nearby lands.

Miss Universe Pageant Opens in Long Beach

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Lovely ladies from here, there and everywhere have arrived for this year's Miss Universe beauty pageant.

A plane carrying more than 70 beauties to the international contest touched down here Thursday while a brass band blared, "California Here I Come," and a crowd of several hundred cheered.

Aboard was Miss New Mexico — Sue Ingersoll, a 22-year-old redhead who defied her archbishop's ban against Catholic girls in his archdiocese entering a contest in which they must wear bathing suits.

After the girls had been herded to a nearby hotel, Miss Ingersoll told a press conference that she does not agree with Archbishop Edwin V. Byrne's contention that bathing suits are improper dress for beauty contests.

The archbishop specifically vetoed wearing the bathing suits in public — although he didn't object to the closed competition by which Miss Ingersoll was selected to represent her state. Miss Universe directors declined to hold a closed pageant, however.

Wearing a white summer frock and a serious expression, Miss Ingersoll pointed out that many of the contestants are Catholic girls who came to Long Beach without any criticism from their spiritual leaders.

Miss Ingersoll is barred from receiving the church's sacraments of confession and communion for an indefinite period.

The pageant ends Friday night.

Steel Strike Puts Dent in Defense Work

By DAVID A. LEHER

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The four-day — old steel strike, currently pinching the nation's economy, is beginning to put a dent in national defense work.

The strike has already snarled plans for the completion of three Atlas missile launching sites near Cheyenne, Wyo., according to construction officials.

The first site, scheduled for completion on Sept. 20, will be finished in time. But high pressure tanks for the other sites are not expected to be delivered by time for the November completion date because of the strike.

As for the economic situation, the nation's steel production losses continue to mount. Production losses are estimated at 300 million dollars a week. Wage losses are running close to 70 million dollars a week.

The strike, which began at Tuesday midnight, has idled some 500,000 members of the United Steelworkers and some 35,000 workers in allied industries, such as railroads, coal mines and transportation.

Negotiations are stalemated. Federal mediation commissioners have stated separate talks with both sides for Monday in New York.

President Eisenhower and James P. Mitchell, secretary of labor, conferred on the situation in Washington Friday. Details of the conference were not released.

The startling black in negotiations proved to be the union's demand for increased wages and improved fringe benefits. The industry refused any concessions and said these concessions would hike labor costs. Steel workers had been averaging $3.10 an hour before the strike.

Some School Integration Is Foreseen

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Little Rock must choose between limited integration and no schools at all, the president of its school board said here last night.

Everett Tucker Jr., headed a three-man Little Rock delegation which visited here and Charlotte, N.C., to study application of pupil placement laws to hold down integration.

The Little Rock School Board has announced it will open the city's high schools next fall under a pupil assignment law similar to those of Virginia and North Carolina.

Little Rock high schools and several schools here were closed last year under state school closing laws. Schools here reopened about mid-term after the Virginia closing law was struck down. Arkansas law also was declared unconstitutional but not in time to get schools open last year.

Tucker, who was accompanied by Supt. Terrell Powell and Herschel Friday, board attorney, said he felt the people of Little Rock preferred limited desegregation to no schools.

Tucker told newsmen he did not think there had been a change in sentiment in Little Rock toward the segregation-integration issue. He said a majority of residents still favored segregation but were unwilling to keep their schools closed to avoid integration.

Of Norfolk's desegregation program, Tucker said, "It's reassuring to see the way in which the school board's plan has been accepted by citizens of both races."

Tucker had like words for the Charlotte situation. "I see no reason," he said, "why a program of pupil assignment cannot be just as successful in Little Rock as it has been here and in Charlotte."

Explorer IV Ends Flight This Month

WASHINGTON (AP)—The next earth satellite scheduled to die the U. S. Explorer IV, may tumble to destruction in the atmosphere blanketed late this month.

The Soviet Sputnik III now appears set to remain in orbit at least as long as December or several months longer than was first anticipated.

These developments came to light in the wake of Thursday's lunchpail destruction of what was to have been America's new earth satellite, the 37-pound Explorer VI.

When Explorer IV was launched at Cape Canaveral, Fla., last July 26, scientists estimated it would remain in orbit about a year. Three other U. S. satellites are still in orbit around the earth.

Dean Brown, demonstration engineer with Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, demonstrates some of the equipment to Paul Klipsch, local sound expert.

Dean Brown, demonstration engineer for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, Little Rock, presented a program Friday to the Hope Rotary Club. The program was titled, "This World of Sound," and was a demonstration of sound reproduction from the time of the first telephone up to the present stereophonic sound reproduction.

Mr. Brown used a tape recorder and oscilloscope to demonstrate the various components of sound.

Program chairman for the day was Robert LaGrone. One visiting from Norman, Elmer Harris of Stamps, was present at Friday's meeting.

New First National Bank Building Recalls History of Founder, Capt. J. T. West

By MARY ANITA LASETER

The completion of the new First National Bank of Hope is a step forward in the progress of our town. But for a moment let's do an "about face" and look in the direction of the past to the first president of that bank, Capt. J. T. West.

Captain West was just that — a captain. Not in the Army. Not in the Navy. But something far more glamorous — especially in the eyes of adventurous boys and starry-eyed girls.

He was a river boat captain on the Mississippi!

Of course, Judson Timothy West wasn't born a captain. He made his first appearance in this world on April 21, 1836. The place was Ohio. And he was probably referred to as "the Wests' bouncing baby boy."

When he died 14 years of age his parents died and the young boy found that he must start out on his own. For two years he worked for a wholesale grocer in Iowa. Then, at the age of 16, he went to work as a cabin boy on a river boat.

That was the beginning of a glamorous life, you say? Well, it was the beginning, but life on a river boat wasn't quite so wonderfully debaucher as some books and some people have made it appear.

The most realistic picture of words was "Painted" by Mark Twain in his "Life on the Mississippi." There, the reader finds that working on a river boat was first of all-work. Furthermore, as in all occupations the higher the rank, the greater the responsibility.

Fallout From Atom Bombs Is Diluted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Naval researchers say they have found that radioactive debris released into the lower atmosphere by nuclear blasts produces a more diluted fallout than earlier believed.

This is the new theory stemming from tests by Naval Research Laboratory chemists. Radioactive matter released into the lower atmosphere, as distinguished from the high reaches of the stratosphere, is rapidly and widely distributed throughout the hemisphere. This provides a

Earlier concepts have held that lower atmosphere nuclear debris was largely limited in its distribution to the particular latitude in which test devices were exploded.

Dr. L. B. Lockhart, Jr., and several associates told about their findings in a report in the technical journal Science.

The evidence stems from studies made in connection with last year's Hardtack nuclear test series in the Pacific.

Parole of Conway Man Is Revoked

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state parole office said today the parole of Wendell Price, 24, of Conway, has been revoked and he has been returned to prison.

The office said Price's parole was cancelled Tuesday after he had been arrested near Searcy for drunkenness and public disturbance in a tavern.

Price was released on parole in May after serving about 14 months of a three-year sentence from Faulkner County for burglarizing a grand larceny and uttering

Castro's Man Quits After Tongue-Lashing

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro showed today he is the undisputed strongman of Cuba by forcing out his hand-picked president in a light over communism.

Shouting that he is no Communist, the 32-year-old Castro accused President Manuel Urrutia of trying to betray the revolutionary regime by posing as "the champion of anti-communism."

His voice quivering, Castro said: "I have often said I am not a Communist and neither is the revolutionary movement Communist, but we do not have to say we are anti-Communists just to fawn on foreign powers."

Urrutia quit while watching Castro denounce him before a nationwide (TV) audience after dramatically announcing his own resignation as prime minister to force a showdown.

Whether Castro would stick by his decision to give up the premiership wasn't clear. Weeping as he left the TV studio, he said he hadn't made up his mind.

The cabinet immediately elected Osvaldo Dorticos, a bookish-looking lawyer in his early 40's, and asked Castro to withdraw his resignation as premier. Dorticos, in a short acceptance speech, appealed to the Cuban people to continue their "clamor for the return of Castro."

Dorticos is a political unknown in Cuba. He was brought into the government as minister of revolutionary laws in a cabinet shake-up last month. In a speech last February he came out against legalizing the Communist party.

Castro made plain he intends to guide the revolution—whether as prime minister or outside the government.

In announcing his resignation as premier, he emphasized: "Now understand me, I am not resigning the fight, I am resigning the job, but I am not resigning the struggle for the revolution."

Carlos Franqui, director of the government party newspaper Revolution, said he felt "very strongly" that Castro will stay outside the government but in some important position.

Urrutia, the 56-year-old former judge who once freed Castro from prison during the Batista regime, appealed for protection for himself and his family after resigning.

Additional guards were rushed to the presidential palace to control a crowd of 1,400 shouting to Urrutia "go home, go away."

2½ Billions for AEC Is Recommended

WASHINGTON (AP)—An allotment of $2,629,114,000 in new funds for the Atomic Energy Commission was recommended today by the House Appropriations Committee.

The money, for use during the current fiscal year, includes 65 million dollars for continuation of the AEC program to develop nuclear-powered airplane. It will be used in cooperation with the Defense Department, which previously was given 75 million for work on the aircraft reactor program.

Deepest cut was in funds for special materials programs, which include development of isotopes and the peaceful use of nuclear explosives.

The committee said industry is increasing the use of its own resources in these programs and "since the benefits derived from this work will ultimately be in the form of substantial money savings in industrial processes, it can reasonably be expected that industry will shoulder most of the development and training costs."

Another cut was in funds for assistance to schools for research equipment. The committee said schools already receiving a high level of federal aid for assistance in research of all types "can be expected to invest in more of the needed equipment themselves."

In addition to the new cash, the committee, subject to House action next week, recommended that the commission be allowed to retain $32,721,000 previously appropriated but unobligated funds.

Screen magic has reduced Tamblyn to the five-inch hero of the George Pal production for MGM, combining live action, animated cartoon characters, songs and dances.

WHERE TO SIT FOR VENISON

By WARREN PAGE
Hunting Editor

Sitting is one of the more effective methods of bagging deer, especially big whitetail.

Providing, that is, that the sitter has patience and is well enough insulated in his footgear, underwear and jacket to remain quiet for long hours in the frost. The watcher has to know, either from his experience or that of a guide, where and when the whitetail are using a trail.

Bucks worth shooting lie up during the day, hiding in the densest laurel thickets or spuce swamps in country that is regularly prowled by hunters, usually bedding down in less-hunted country on ridge points, where they can see in several directions, where breeze flaps will bring warning scent to them from at least two possible directions, and from which they can bounce into high gear on a choice of several escape routes.

The sitter will never meet hiding bucks, but can greet them as they move from bed to feed ground and back.

He must sit in concealment, his outline broken by brush or tree. He needs to see only a few yards of the likely run, because if he sits still he'll hear the furtive rustlings of slow-moving deer before he sees the game, and both his gun-raising movements and the flash of a human face must be hidden from the game as it approaches.

The hunter's best spots will be in a fairly dense cover. Deer move from swamp to beech ridge, from bed point to abandoned orchard or field edge by protected routes. The hunter will pick a trace that shows signs of constant use, with deer tracks no more than a day old and sharply defined track edges.

If he can get above the likely route area, so much the better, since whitetail seem less conscious of danger from above. Visibility is likely to be better.

Ice-Sliders Pick Wrong Man — Cop

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Three small boys picked the wrong target when they slid a 25-pound chunk of ice down a steep hill toward an automobile.

In the car was Policeman Dennis Johnstone, 35. The ice bounded into the right front fender. Johnstone swerved to a tree and was thrown from the car.

Despite cuts and bruises, he chased the boys over backyard fences and collared them.

Quirk of Law for TV Bars Sen. Humphrey

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—A partial blackout from one of his favorite media—television—brought a demand from Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) today for speedy congressional revision of the radio-TV equal time rule.

Because his friends put him into the race for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination this week, Humphrey said his scheduled appearance on CBS' Face the Nation next Sunday had been canceled.

Humphrey said CBS attorneys had ruled he was officially a candidate and that the network would have to give other aspirants equal time on news programs on which he appeared.

On the other hand he was invited and promptly accepted an invitation to appear today on NBC's Today show.

In New York, Sig Mickelson, CBS vice president in charge of news, confirmed that the network's attorneys had advised that the invitation to Humphrey be withdrawn.

Humphrey contended that he is no more an official candidate than Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) and other hopefuls, despite the fanfare of an announcement Tuesday by Gov. Orville Freeman of Minnesota and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy (D-Minn.) they were putting him up for the nomination.

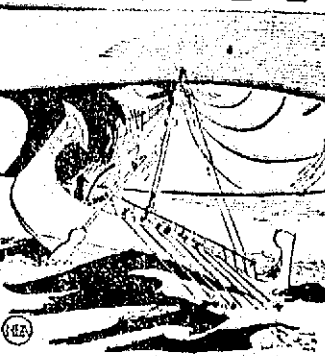

Humphrey said he had consulted Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and had been promised that a bill revising the equal time provision will be brought up next week for Senate action.

The measure, approved Wednesday by the Senate Commerce Committee, would exempt from the equal time ruling of the Federal Communications Commission appearances of candidates on newscasts, interviews, documentaries and panel discussions.

Dies Running to Help Ill Friend

RAMMONTON, N.J. (AP)—John McGrath, 64, and his friend Leo Dillon, 72, were chatting in McGrath's home Thursday when Dillon suddenly collapsed. McGrath ran next door for help, suffering a heart attack and died.

matter of FACT

The people of Phoenicia—a strip of coast line in Syria, lying between Mount Lebanon and the Mediterranean north of Palestine—were the most daring of ancient sailors. They ventured far beyond the Mediterranean Sea in their galleys. By their travels they joined the old civilizations of Mesopotamia, Egypt and India with the growing power of Greece and Rome. They left few records of themselves, so all that is known about them was learned in histories written by others.

Investigation of Textbooks Is Indicated

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A Legislative Council subcommittee yesterday discussed a proposed investigation of school textbooks, but deferred action until September.

Craighead County Rep. John States asked an investigation of books for subversive content, charging that communistic philosophy had been detected in some junior and senior high school texts.

The subcommittee, headed by Sen. Charles F. (Rip) Smith of West Memphis, decided to ask advice from the state Education Department and to invite any organization having a list of suspected subversive text books to submit it to the committee.

Selection of junior and senior high school books is left to school districts. The Education Department picks books for grades one through eight.

BIBLE MARATHON

PARIS, Ky. (AP)—The young people of Mt. Carmel Church staged a new type of marathon—they read the Bible through. Thirty-two persons, reading aloud in 15 minute stints, read the Bible in 67 hours and 14 minutes.

They offered a heart attack and died. Dillon also was stricken with a heart attack. He's in fair condition at a hospital.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gangling Jimmy Stewart of the movies, is getting his Air Force general's star after all.

Even Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine), who blocked his promotion for two years, voted for him Thursday as the Senate Armed Services Committee unanimously okayed his elevation to brigadier general in the Air Force Reserve.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A compromise 3½-billion-dollar foreign aid bill, tailored to meet most of President Eisenhower's requests, took final shape today in a Senate-House conference committee.

The conferees met again today, to put the finishing touches on a provision to shift military aid funds to the regular Defense Department budget for a two-year trial period.

This was at least a partial victory for the President, who had urged permanent authorization for military assistance abroad starting with the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1960. The Senate had approved the plan, but it was not in the House bill.

The House conferees agreed to a substitute provision authorizing such appropriations for the year beginning July 1, 1960, and July 1, 1961. If approved by both houses, this would shift military assistance out of the foreign aid bill for two years and enable the President to go directly to congressional appropriations committees for financing it.

All Thursday's actions were tentative, and subject to change before final action is taken at today's session.

The family was not at home. O'Brien was reported out of the state with his wife and two children. He is business agent for Teamsters Local 299, which is the Detroit home local of Teamsters President James R. Hoffa.

Police said the living room of the eight-room house and two second-floor bedrooms had been soaked with fuel oil.

Sgt. Oramel O'Farrell, head of the arson squad at the Redford state police post, said, "We don't know why the fire was set, but we know it was no accident."

O'Brien's mother, Sylvia Paris of Detroit, blamed her son's union activities. She told police "He got many threats. He laughed them off but they scared me."

Mrs. Paris had left the house half an hour before the fire was reported.

Mrs. Paris said O'Brien is in Wyoming on business. His wife and two children, Charles, 5, and Josephine, 2, were visiting Mrs. O'Brien's mother in Kansas City, Mo.

Authorization of $1,400,000,000 for military aid this year—160 million more than the Senate voted and 40 million under the House figure—The compromise was 200 million under Eisenhower's original request for the purpose.

Still more important, from Eisenhower's viewpoint, the Senate conferees agreed to abandon a provision in the Senate bill earmarking $893,750,000 of the military aid funds for NATO countries. The administration had opposed this, the fear that it would unduly limit the amount that could be used for non-NATO countries like France, the Republic of Korea and other allies.

SMALL BUT MIGHTY
DENTON, Tex. (AP)—A glass hypodermic needle so small that 3,000 of them measure only an inch across is providing new clues to the effects of atomic radiation on nerve tissues.

The needle is used in a research project involving micro-injection of nerve fibers exposed to x-rays in a North Texas State College biology laboratory.

SMOOTH

SAILING

...that is exactly what all of us dream of. But this is God's world and we certainly must learn the laws of God if our journey is to be smooth. We must chart our course with caution. We must know how to man the sails. We must read carefully the "guide book for mariners," called The Sermon on the Mount. One must know how to tack and, most important of all, ask the "Great Pilot" what course He recommends. Let your church attendance and support record, the contribution you make to the cause of good, and your love for the brethren serve as your compass. The smooth sailing of your ship will be determined by the judgment you use in your preparation. You can't make it alone, Mister. Better take God with you.

You In The Church The Church In You

— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.
